TWO BROTHERHOOD MEN.

CHAIRMAN HOGG AND MURPHY ARRESTED IN CHICAGO.

Charged With Conspiracy Against the Burlington Road—The Secret Circular Cause of the Trouble—The Brotherhood Will Protect No Guilty Men.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Chairman Hogg, of the grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Engineers, and Chairman Murphy, occupying the same position in the Firemen's Brotherhood, were arrested at the National hotel at 6:30 a. m. Both men were taken to the armory and locked up. They were charged with conspiracy.

The much-talked-of circular, in which Hogg is alleged to have requested Brotherhood men to hire themselves secretly to the Burlington road and then disable the engines is what got Hogg into trouble. Chairman Murphy is charged with being an accomplice. A midnight consultation of the officers of the company led to the arrests.

Two or three detectives, Managers Stone, Paul Morton and Frank Collier, attorney for the company, were working all night on the evidence against the alleged conspirators, and it was not until at an early hour that they decided to arrest Hogg and Murphy. Manager Stone swore out the warrants.

No more arrests will be made in this city, it is said, but it is probable that several strikers in other places, who are now being shadowed by the company's detectives will be behind the bars before long. The company, it is thought, has found among the conspirators one who has confessed.

The disappearance of Fireman Alec Smith, who was arrested the other day, and who was not jailed with the other prisoners, taken in connection with the remarkable secrecy which the Brotherhood maintains in all its affairs, seem to preclude the idea of the company's having secured its evidence in any other manner.

Before his arrest Chairman Hogg had nothing to say regarding the arrest of Engineer Godding except to reiterate his former statement, that the Brotherhood would protect no guilty man.

"What is there to your alleged statement that there may be a general strike all over the country?" asked the reporter.

"I meant nothing further than that if the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road should arrest some of the Brotherhood leaders there would be a complete cessation of work. If Arthur had been arrested when that subject was agitated it would have stopped every wheel in the country. I think it would be the same if I should be arrested. They have gone no further among our officers than Bauereisen, and that is far enough."

Chairmen Hogg and Murphy were taken before Justice R. H. White and held for trial in $1,500 bonds, which was promptly furnished. The case was set for Saturday week.

Burlington Brakemen Strike.
KANSAS CITY, July 11.—All the brakemen on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy struck at 11:30 a. m.

VOICES FROM OVER THE SEA.

Edison Will Reproduce Them With His New Phonograph.

NEW YORK, July 11.—A phonograph will arrive at Mr. Thomas A. Edison's laboratory at Llewellyn park within a day or two, which when it is allowed to give forth the sounds that are contained within it, will create no small degree of sensation. It contains the tones of the eloquent voice of William E. Gladstone, ex-premier of England, the "Grand Old Man" who is now Ireland's dearest advocate.

Still more, there is, sealed up in the little instrument a song by the Diva Adelina Patti and a speech by the Right Hon. Arthur James Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland. Mr. Edison sent this most perfect of all his phonographs to England some months ago with the idea of obtaining for the education of the American people the sounds of the voice of the great English statesman Gladstone and Balfour, as well as those of the divine Patti, whose last and only farewell tour is still fresh in the memory of all lovers of music in this country.

The mission was a success and the phonograph full of eloquence and song is almost hourly expected to arrive. When Mr. Edison shall finally turn the crank which shall unwind the skein of language and music, a treat may be expected, such as may never be experienced again until Gladstone, Balfour and Patti shall come in propria persona. When asked as to the time of the phonograph's arrival Mr. Edison said: "It will be here by the next steamer."

Zachar's Fifty-First Day.

RACINE, Wis., July 11.—A large number of people visited John Zachar, the Caledonia fester, yesterday. It was the fiftieth day of his remarkable fast. Zachar talked pleasantly with his visitors on all subjects but that of his fast. On that he enjoined silence. He has grown perceptibly weaker in the last three days, his eyes have a tired look, the lids droop, and his voice is very weak. He still has strength enough to walk from the house to the tree, under which he can be found at any hour of the day. There he does off, sleeping but a short time. He appears to suffer no pain. Dr. Noyes says that he found Zachar's pulse at forty-five, his tongue clean, and his mind apparently unclouded. The doctor believes that his fast is genuine.

The Last Hope Gone.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The last hope of the young hoodlum and murderer, Goldenson, was shattered Monday by Supreme Justice Field, who refused to entertain the writ of error of Goldenson's counsel. The brutal murderer of the little school girl must now hang. He wept when told of the judge's decision, but promised to give a written statement of his case in a few days.

Congressman Randall Ill.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Congressman Randall is confined to his room to-day from an attack of hemorrhoids. He was attacked late last night, but prompt medical attention prevented any serious results. His physician has directed him to remain at home for several days.

KENTUCKY TRAGEDY.

Factions Fight in a Churchyard—Two Killed and Four Wounded.

KENTONVILLE, Tenn., July 11.—One of the bloodiest tragedies that has ever occurred in eastern Kentucky took place Sunday night at Laurel Fork meeting house, in Whitley county. The principal parties in the riot were the Rose and Fuson factions.

The following are the facts as your representative has been able to ascertain after much trouble and expense:

It seems that the old feud has existed for some time along Pine mountain between Mitch Rose and one of the Fusons. For months they have been organizing their friends, and each had sworn eternal vengeance on the other. Sunday night each faction went to Laurel church full of mean whisky and fight. Only a few days since the leaders had met in personal combat, when Fuson and Rose were both seriously hurt. This aroused the members of each party and extermination was decided upon.

About 9 o'clock, when the gospel was being expounded in true backwoods sincerity, a volley of shots were heard within. Another, and still another followed in quick succession. A dozen men had met in mortal combat. The people at worship rushed from their places into the outer darkness to find it filled with curses, prayers and groans. There in the churchyard sturdy mountaineers had met in battle array and life's blood had flown freely. The screams of women and children and frantic actions of men, with the death agonies, rendered it a scene horrid in the extreme.

On the ground, cold in death with their instruments of warfare beside them, lay Ewell Lawson and his thirteen-year-old son, of the Rose faction. They had not died in vain, for fear by lay in the most intense agony and fatally wounded, Tom, Jim and Ewing Fuson and John Parton. The astonished and excited inhabitants took charge of the dead and dying, and gave them every attention that backwoods aid could render.

The isolated condition of the battle ground renders details hard to get, but the above facts were gained from a party in that vicinity. That entire section of Kentucky is wild with excitement, and the end is not yet. Both factions have many adherents, and each has ordered an extra supply of firearms.

A Mississippi Tragedy.

YAZOO CITY, Miss., July 11.—Relative to the bloody affray at Rising Sun, Le Flore county, on Saturday night, the latest information places R. H. Ivey and Sam Austin as dead, Henry McCarty, with five bullet holes through him, and Ben, McCarty and S. H. Whitworth as wounded, though not seriously. The sheriff has arrested Whitworth, Hopkins and McLean, the three principals in the shooting on the Whitworth side and has taken them to Greenwood. Serious trouble is feared.

TOUGH ON THE MINISTER.

A Buffalo Divine Gets a Drubbing Intended for a Masher.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 11.—The parishioners of Ashbury Methodist Episcopal church are greatly excited over the thrashing of their pastor, the Rev. J. N. Dalby, late on Saturday night, on his return home from Music hall, where he had been attending the National conference of charities and correction.

The facts did not become public until Monday, and Joseph Montague, a young married man, who had committed the assault, has not yet been arrested. The clergyman says that Montague followed him through an alley, doubled on his tracks, and finally walked up to him and asked if he were not Mr. Curtis.

"No, sir, my name is Dalby," replied the clergyman.

"You lie, you know you lie," said Montague, who let his fists fly at the pastor's head, pummeling and knocking him, while the demagogue yelled for the police. Some men in the neighboring barber shop interfered and arrested Dalby, who at first wanted Montague arrested but afterward changed his mind. Montague's father called on the minister and apologized for the assault, saying that it was a case of mistaken identity.

The young man says his wife, who is a beautiful little brunette, has been annoyed by a fifty-year-old masher named Curtis, whom he determined to punish. He says also it was a case of mistaken identity.

Insane From Surgery.

SABINA, O., July 11.—Clark, the twenty-two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Steele, of Centerville, recently became a raving maniac as the reflex of a surgical operation at Cincinnati a few months ago for stricture. He was adjudged insane by Probate Judge Williams and taken to the Dayton asylum. Though bound hands and feet, he made desperate attempts to strike and bite those in attendance, while he was frothing continually at the mouth. He was very popular, and of more than ordinary intelligence until quite recently.

Jay Gould Not Ill.

NEW YORK, July 11.—George Gould said to a United Press reporter this morning, when questioned regarding his father's reported illness: "There is no truth whatever in to-day's published statement of my father's illness. He is very well indeed. Those continually published stories about his ill health are no doubt circulated for 'street' purposes. This latest story was probably suggested by my father's absence from Wall street. Please deny emphatically that Jay Gould is ill."

The Edwardsburg, Indiana, Storm.

GOSHEN, Ind., July 11.—Reports from Edwardsburg show that the cyclone there last Friday night was much more destructive than at first reported. The whole western portion of the town was wiped out. The new hotel was ruined, and not a store front left. Trees, crops, barns and fences were unceremoniously sent flying by the wind. No one is reported fatally injured, but many are destitute and help is asked for.

Steamboat Collision at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, July 11.—As the towboat Dauntless, having two barges of coal in tow was passing under the Smithfield street bridge to her landing, she struck the wharf boat at which the packets, Adam Jacobs and Scotia were lying. The wharf boat and one barge of coal were wrecked and sunk and the Jacobs and Scotia were considerably damaged. The loss amounts to several thousand dollars.

WILLIAM II'S HARD TASK

IS THAT OF OVERCOMING HIS PAST RECORD.

He Fears That He Will Not Be Popular With the People—A Great Display to Be Made at His Meeting With the Czar—An Austrian War Measure—Foreign News.

LONDON, July 11.—One of the strongest characteristics of the young emperor of Germany is the fear that he will not be popular among the people. Inspired by the dread of being considered an austere and selfish monarch, Emperor William shapes many of his acts with a view of convincing his subjects that he is a wise, conscientious and generous ruler.

He feels that he has the record to overcome, which he made as the son of the crown prince, and he is aware that in many ways his efforts are not as successful as he could wish. Unlike his father, who with the same step that took him to throne, entered into the devoted love and perfect confidence of his people, Emperor William has gained a reputation for austerity and cold-heartedness, which now he is most anxious to overcome. But while an evil reputation is easily gained its opposite is not attained by a few popular acts, nor is suspicion readily dispelled.

Emperor William labors under the disadvantage of having his measures suspected in respect to their genuineness. His latest bid for popularity does not seem to be kindly regarded on all sides. This is the insurance for aged or invalid working people, a bill which passed the bundsrath last week. Loud are the complaints that are heard from the able-bodied millions of men and women, who are required to contribute twenty-one and fourteen pfennigs respectively out of their weekly wages.

If the money could have been raised by an indirect tax and the same amount levied without the actual knowledge of it on the part of the people, it would have been better. But to be obliged to pay out such weekly sums seems a hardship unbearable. There is, too, a feeling among the involuntary contributors of the fund of suspicion of the real object of the government.

The Royal Meeting.

BERLIN, July 11.—The meeting of the czar and Emperor William on the Baltic is for some purpose being made of a sensational character. The czar, on board the yacht Derjawa, escorted by two men-of-war, will meet the German squadron. The Emperor William will then go on board the yacht and the two squadrons sail for Cronstadt, where the sovereigns will land with military honors.

The czarina will accompany the czar. When Emperor William steps upon the deck of the Russian yacht the German standard will be unfurled from the masthead of that vessel. The czar, representing the czar, will board the Hohenzollern, which will fly the Russian flag.

All this is in strong contrast with the absence of display in the meetings of royalists in the late past, and their is much speculation in regard to what idea the spectacle is intended to convey to Europe. The announcement in the German journals some time ago that a marriage was on the tapis between the czar's daughter and second daughter of Frederick, was never repeated. The well known aversion of the czar as well as the Russian Nationalist party to everything German, seemed to render the statement absurd.

However, Germany has long been courted Russia, and that so assiduously that the existence of a private treaty of amity and common purpose is suspected to have been for many years in existence. Invariably Germany has supported Russian demands in conference and paved the way for her in the east. When Russia withdrew her representative from Bulgaria, Russian interests were entrusted to the German consul at Sofia, who has protested against the doubling of import duties on Russian spirits. The present meeting of Emperor William and the czar cannot mean less than that Russia is about to make formal demands in regard to Bulgaria, and that Germany intends to support those demands. It probably means also vastly more than that.

Under the Wing of Russia.

BERGDALE, July 11.—The Princess Masura, the aunt of Queen Natalie, has departed from Frankfurt, with the intention of placing the queen and her son under the protection of the Russian consul there. As her son is also son of King Milan, of Serbia, and heir apparent to the throne of Serbia, Queen Natalie hopes for Russian interference and that in the coming struggle in which all the Balkan states will be involved, that power will succeed in dethroning her Austroprussian husband, King Milan, and placing her son on the throne with herself as regent. For this she has been plotting for some time in Russia's interest, no doubt encouraged by the agents of Russia. Yet she protests against the right of the Serbian boy synd to grant a divorce to her husband, and calls herself a much abused woman.

King Milan has formally invoked the aid of the authorities of Hesse-Nassau to force his wife, who is stopping at Weisbaden to surrender him the crown prince.

Parnell's Opinion.

LONDON, July 11.—Mr. Parnell, in an interview with the correspondent of the United Press, said that he believed the Home Rule movement would result in the establishment of an imperial parliament in which England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales and the colonies would be represented, each country having a separate legislature to manage its local affairs. The imperial parliament, he thought, would supplant the present house of lords. He also expressed the belief that the next elections would result in the restoration of the Liberals to office and that the Gladstonians would have a majority in the house of commons of at least 120.

An Austrian War Measure.

VIENNA, July 11.—An army bill will be introduced in the autumn, providing for an increase of 10,000 men annually in the number of recruits. The clause in the present law, which provides that the war strength of the army shall be 800,000 men, will be replaced by a clause providing that the army on a war footing shall comprise 4 per cent of the population. That would raise it to about 2,500,000 on a war footing. The war strength of 800,000 comprises the regular army; the several landwehrs raise this to over 1,000,000 on a war footing at the present time.

Roumanian Jews Bound for America.

BUCHAREST, July 11.—Seventy Jewish families have left here for America. Great numbers of Jews must now be afloat in the Balkan states since their expulsion from several of the chief cities of Russia lately. Nearly all those from Odessa went into Roumania, where they are subject to the same discouragements as in Russia. That vast numbers will find their way to America during this summer is beyond question.

Trying to Germanize Alsace-Lorraine.

BERLIN, July 11.—Several delegations have waited upon the stadtholder at Strasbourg and urged him to modify the passport regulations, on the ground that the present system is injuring trade. Many petitions on the same subject have been forwarded to Emperor William, and it is not unlikely that a change will be made.

It is expected that measures will be taken to induce French land owners to sell their estates and quit Alsace-Lorraine.

Foreign Notes.

Dr. Mackenzie repudiates all the late interviews, and says he has not been interviewed by a correspondent since he left Berlin.

The emperor of Brazil has quite recovered from his recent illness. His majesty will sail from Bordeaux for Rio Janeiro on the 5th of August.

Mr. Parnell has decided to ask that a parliamentary committee be appointed to inquire into the charges made by the Times against himself and other leaders of the National party in the house of commons.

The editor of the Cologne Gazette has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment in a fortress for publishing an incorrect statement that a landlord had refused to sell to the government land on which it proposed to erect a statue of Emperor William I.

Herr Dietz, the Alsatian railroad official; Mme. Dietz, and a railway assistant named Appell, who are charged with having sold to the French government information relative to German military arrangements, have been convicted. Dietz was sentenced to ten years' and his wife to four years' penal servitude. Both are also to be deprived of their civil rights. Appell was sentenced to one year's imprisonment and nine years' detention in a fortress.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 11, 1888.

Tariff Revision Needed.

The burdensome war tariff is taxing the 60,000,000 people of this county $100,000,000 a year more than the government needs, and all for the benefit of a few monopolists.

General Grant was in favor of a revision of this tariff. The lamented General Garfield thought it ought to be revised. Ex-President Arthur was of the same opinion, and they all said so in their messages to Congress.

Four years ago the Republican party pledged itself "to correct the inequalities of the tariff," admitting that the present system was unjust.

The Mills bill proposes to revise the tariff and correct the inequalities complained of. The revision it will work is moderate, and will leave an average tariff of 40 per cent., the reduction proposed amounting to but 7 per cent. And yet Republicans right in the face of the declarations of Grant, Garfield and Arthur and their party platform four years ago are denouncing the bill as a "free trade" measure and say all Democrats are "free traders." The cry is false, and every Republican who utters it knows that he utters a falsehood.

Taxation is not a blessing.

No Free Trade.

The Mills bill itself is a highly protective measure, only proposing to change a tariff averaging 47 per cent. to one averaging 40 per cent. If this is free trade, what shall be said of the proposed Republican reduction of 20 per cent. in 1872, or of the Republican tariff commission of 1887? If an average tariff rate of 40 per cent. is free trade, then the Republican party has been a free trade party ever since 1867, and the United States has been a free trade country the greater part of its existence.—Providence, (R. I.) Journal.

The BULLETIN has insisted all along that this talk of "free trade" by the Republicans is only gotten up for campaign purposes. They seek to frighten the voters by prating of "free trade," when the records show that such a thing is not contemplated. But what care they for that? In the last campaign they tried to frighten the people with the cry of "business ruin" in case Cleveland was elected. It was a false cry and has been proven so. Now they are at their old tricks, and are industriously engaged in prating of "free trade." The record of their party, however, rises up to condemn them. Nay, it does more, it sustains the position of the Democrats on this tariff question.

Good News From Ohio.

Of course Democrats are not counting on carrying Ohio next fall, but they have carried that State in the past and they may do so again.

If newspaper reports are to be believed the outlook for the Democratic cause in the "Buckeye State" is exceedingly bright. The Cleveland Plain Dealer says Harrison and Morton's nomination fell like a wet blanket on their party in that section. "Hundreds of men in this city," adds the Plain Dealer, "and throughout the State who have been life-long Republicans are declaring their intention of voting for Cleveland and Thurman. The excellent record made by the national administration, the popularity of the grand old veteran, Thurman, together with the present Republican policy of continuing war taxes in time of peace, have brought about the great change of sentiment and filled the Democratic ranks with these independent thinking men. The change is becoming so great that consternation is filling the minds of the Republicans in Ohio. They see gradually going from their grasp a State that for many years has been reliably Republican in presidential years. We have but to say to the Democrats, do your duty from now until next November."

Down with the war tariff.

"Taxation is not a blessing."

"UNNECESSARY taxation is legalized robbery."

CALLOWAY COUNTY is the first to settle in full with the State for this year's taxes. The amount was $10,790.60.

THE Democrats of Boyd County have nominated John G. Patton for Sheriff and John Wittig for Commissioner, and have gone into the fight to win.

GREENUP Democrats have nominated W. B. Taylor for Sheriff and John W. Warnock for Commissioner. They also endorsed Cleveland and Thurman and the national platform of their party.

GEN. FISK, the Prohibition candidate for President, refers to the temperance resolution adopted by the Republicans at Chicago as "the little sickly annex to their platform." And he adds that this "little sickly annex" has driven thousands of temperance voters into the Prohibition ranks. The resolution was such a plain bid for the temperance vote that it has disgusted Republicans of that kind.

SHANNON.

The frequent showers give the planters some rest from plowing, but the hoe can be used to advantage in exterminating the weeds. Men while the crops are getting on an old-fashioned boom. Corn and tobacco have doubled themselves in the last two weeks, while the timothy meadows and the oat crop are coming on busily.

The symptoms in the Thomas B. Arthur case are reported to be more favorable. The hyperdermic syringe charged with morphia is being used to lull the pain while the use of the catheter every seven hours is the temporary relief of the dormant kidneys. Dr. L. Y. Browning is as faithful as a clock while the neighbors are regular and vigilant in their watches over the brave and patient invalid.

Dr. E. P. Wheeler, V. S., of your city, is caring for a number of affected horses at Ashwood Stock Farm, near the Centennial grounds. He has escaped the epidemic and is in fine health. The disease is known as the pink-eye.

On Tuesday afternoon, July 3, all that was mortal of Annie Reed Browning, was laid to rest in Shannon cemetery, after an elegant funeral sermon from the text: "And the Weary Are at Rest," by Rev. Dr. Anderson, and a comprehensive and touching prayer by Rev. D. A. Beardsley and some sweet songs by the church choir. As Dr. Anderson said, "one less sufferer on earth, one more dear spirit in Heaven," and in Rev. Beardsley's moving and touching words, "no one knew how dear little Anna was to mother." Dearest may be the grave in it, illuminated by the reflected light of a risen Savior.

SUDDEN DEATH SUMMONS.

Mate George Corns, of the Steamer St. Lawrence, Dies of Disease of the Heart.

George W. Corns, mate of the steamer St. Lawrence, dropped dead yesterday shortly after dinner. He was apparently in his usual health when the boat left here on her down trip. A stop was made at Moore's Landing, opposite Ripley, to receive a shipment of cattle. While the deck hands were engaged in driving the cattle on board, Mr. Corns had stepped off the boat and was leaning against the cattle guards when suddenly he threw up his hands and fell backwards to the ground. Some of the men went to his assistance at once, but he breathed his last in a few minutes. The remains were afterwards transferred to Ripley, where later in the evening they were embalmed, placed in a handsome casket and then taken down to Cincinnati.

The deceased was about forty years of age and leaves a family. His home was in Dayton, Ky. He had been with the "White Collar Line" several years.

Two mixed trains with a fine coach each will also be run, one leaving Maysville and the other Ashland about the same time each morning and returning in the afternoon. Time cards not yet issued. The road will be opened on Monday next for regular business. The road bed is said to be in as fine condition as many old roads.

Bush Hart Stabs an Assailant.

Bush Hart, a Storekeeper under Collector Robinson, and well known in this city, was the unwilling participant in an unfortunate affair at Walsh's distillery, near Paris, a few evenings ago. He was on night duty, and soon after reaching the distillery on the evening in question, a man named Wright, engineer at the place, threw a cup of water on him. Wright being drunk, he paid no attention to him. Wright then went to his house, which is at the distillery, and raised a row with his wife, and finally shot at her three times without effect. He then returned to the warehouse and attacked Hart, attempting to shoot him, but Hart was too quick for him and stabbed him with a pocket knife, and then disarmed him. The wounds are in the shoulder and arm, and although very serious are not necessarily dangerous. No arrests have been made as it was a purely justifiable affair.

Stock, Field and Farm.

The crop outlook in Nicholas was never better than at present.

J. B. Haggin's sale of seventy horses in New York brought $150,000.

Mr. D. A. Richardson, of this city, advises farmers and gardeners to sow some oats with their turnips. If this is done the fly will never destroy the young turnips. The experiment is well worthy of a trial.

According to the reports of the Assessors made to Auditor Hewitt but nine counties in Kentucky raised hemp in any quantity in 1887. These were Fayette, 2,664,300 pounds; Woodford, 2,073,700; Clark, 1,478,500; Scott, 1,227,500; Jessamine, 1,404,100; Bourbon, 457,900; Shelby, 403,000; Garrard, 305,500; Boyle, 200,000. The total crop was 10,614,224 as against 12,479,000 of the year preceding, a decrease of 1,865,076.

The Kentucky Central passenger train due here at 11 a. m. was delayed an hour or so yesterday by the smoking car jumping the track near one of the tunnels. But little damage was done and no one was hurt.

A MILLERSBURG special says Mrs. Daniel Smith, aged 72 years, died Monday morning of general debility. She was formerly a tailoress, and made James G. Blaine's clothes in the days of his pedagoging at that place thirty years ago.

If some of the men of wealth of Maysville had a little more pluck they would go to work and soon have some new manufacturing enterprises in operation. With the advantages this city offers, factories ought to, and would, pay as well here as elsewhere.

HON. J. D. PICKETT, Superintendent of Public Instruction, has written to County Superintendents, that teachers holding certificates which have not expired will not have to be re-examined until the expiration of the term for which their certificates were given.

A COMMUNICATION to the Bourbon News concerning the closing exercises of the Visitation Academy at Paris says: "The address to the Bishop was by Miss Lucile Pearce, of Maysville, who was universally admired both for her pathos and gracefulness of manner."

JAMES CASE, one of Aberdeen's oldest citizens, died last night, of general debility. He was a native of Maryland, but had been a resident of Aberdeen and vicinity for years. He was ninety-one years old, and leaves seven children.

COLONEL JOHN W. WATSON and son, H. Lloyd Watson, were at St. Clemens, Mich., Monday. They write to have their names added to the list of members of the Bandana Club. Colonel Watson adds: I have recently traveled largely through this State (Michigan). The Democrats are wide awake and feel confident of carrying the State in November."

M. L. WATSON, a young book and stationery dealer of Ripley, disappeared a few days ago and is still missing. A special says he recently purchased the book store from Rev. Moses Porter, who holds a mortgage for a considerable sum. He is also indebted to the business men about Ripley for quite an amount. Until recently Watson had been a hard drinker, but reformed and was doing well. He was on a drunk, however, the night he disappeared. He left a wife and two small children.

BROTHER CHAMP, of the Bourbon News, was induced to attend the camp meeting at Deering last Sunday, and he thus speaks of Rev. Sam Jones: "He is void of hypocritical cant and long-facedness, and knows exactly where to strike a man. He says some pretty rough things, but says them in such a happy manner that no one can take offense. He runs clear out of the old ruts and leaves the old Adamatic stock of platitudes to mould and rust. All really live and intelligent people are worn out with platitudes years ago. That is one reason why we broke our record Sunday, and went to the camp meeting; and that is why many other progressive people went."

THE PACIFIC FISHERIES.

AN OLD CAPTAIN'S GLOWING ACCOUNT OF THE POSSIBILITIES.

Unlike the New England Coast, Storms are Almost Unknown—Ships Can Be Loaded With Halibut in Two Days—The Atlantic Likely to Be Abandoned Soon.

Boston, July 11.—David O. Robinson, ex-mayor of Gloucester, and Samuel G. Pool have departed for Seattle, W. T., to look over the situation there relating to the halibut fisheries. Capt. Solomon Jacobs has recently arrived home from that vicinity, where he has been fishing. He gives the most glowing accounts of the possibilities of the Pacific fisheries.

Capt. Jacobs has his two Gloucester clipper schooners, the Mollie Adams and the Edward Webster, engaged in the North Pacific fisheries. He caught a trip of halibut and for an experiment shipped a refrigerator car loaded to New York and other points, where they sold readily, being pronounced chunky fish and very fine meat.

The inshore waters of the northern Pacific seem with this fish and it is only a matter of two days fishing to load up the vessel, get into port, load right into a car alongside the pier and ship in all directions. The fierce storms and loss of life so sad a feature of New England fisheries are almost unknown there. In fact a tow boat has to be used frequently in getting the vessels to and from the fishing grounds which are inshore. Indeed, Capt. Jacobs is thinking of putting an auxiliary engine and propeller in his vessels. All these Pacific proceedings have been sharply watched by the members of the halibut companies here.

Year after year the catch of halibut has become smaller and smaller, and the vessels have been compelled to go further and further in search of them in dangerous seas. A trip of halibut caught 700 to 1,000 miles away from port on the Atlantic, cannot, under the most favorable conditions, reach this port under seven or eight days, and most frequently two weeks are consumed in getting it to market. Added to this is the time consumed in distributing to the consumer, and thus the fish is from three to seven weeks out of water. It is possible now to put fish in New York from Seattle within a week. The companies here have organized a complete system of distribution all over the United States, and control this branch of the business, and when this new field was opened it boded no good to them.

When Capt. Jacobs was on his way home at Chicago and other points, he made arrangements with various parties, who promised to take all the fish he would send them. When he got to Gloucester, it is said that he was approached by members of halibut companies looking to the same kind of an agreement by which they could act in concert and this trip to Seattle by two of the chief members of the Atlantic company who are the largest dealers in the world, is for the purpose of looking over the situation and determining what steps, if any, are feasible in the premises. It is evident that when the Pacific halibut fisheries are well opened, the Atlantic branch of this fishery will be abandoned as unprofitable.

THE PATRIARCHS MILITANT.

Official Program of the Meeting Soon to be Held in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, July 11.—The official program of the meeting of the Patriarchs Militant, beginning Monday, July 23, and continuing until Saturday, July 28, has just been issued. You have already published a great portion of the program. Among the new exercises are: Thursday, July 24, competitive drills of cautions and battalions, and a meeting of the military council at the Burnet. Dress parade on the esplanade at 5 p. m., and conference of decoration of chivalry at Music hall at 8.

The competitive drills will be continued Wednesday and Thursday. Manual of swords at Music hall Wednesday afternoon. Thursday will be the great parade from 3 to 4 p. m. Decoration of chivalry at campus of Cincinnati in the evening. Excursions to Coney Island Friday. Reception and display of fireworks at the Zoo in the evening. Review at Eden park on Saturday. Awards at 4:30 p. m. The prizes to competing commanders and cantons aggregate $9,210.

The prizes in individual contests and band contests aggregate $1,075. The contribution from the local lodges is $4,000, thus making the grand militant fund at least $30,000. The railroads centering in Cincinnati have made very low rates in transportation, and the Patriarchs Militant will undoubtedly have a grand time—almost, if not quite, equal to the gorgeous and gaudy doings of the Knights of Pythias.

The Dreaded Texas Fever.

WARSAW, Ind., July 11.—Farmers along the line of the Lake Erie & Western railway in this state are greatly alarmed over the appearance among their cattle of the dreaded Texas fever. A carload of Texas cattle passed over the road a few days since; several of the animals died en route and were buried in Tipton county. The infection appears to have caught and is spreading rapidly. In one neighborhood near Tipton ten head of valuable cattle have since died and a similar disease has made its appearance among the cows of Kokomo.

A Judge as a Thumper.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 11.—A sensation was caused in the United States court room here Monday afternoon, when, on the reopening of court, Judge Organ, foreman of the grand jury, made an assault on John Kinney, throwing him down and giving him a severe beating. Judge Organ justified himself to the court by the charge that Kinney had insulted his wife.

Young Murderers.

JACKSON, Ky., July 11.—Lawville Combs, on trial for killing his six-year-old sister with a skillful handle, then partially cremating the body, was sentenced to prison for life. He seems more penitent than at first. Lawville's brother William goes with him. William, it seems, split his brother's head open with an ax. He is indifferent.

Portsmouth Labor Squabble.

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 11.—The situation at Drew, Selby & Company's remains unchanged. District Assemblyman Jones, of Ironton, addressed the Knights of Labor last night. The firm will take back all, excepting Mackay, the discharged man.

Not So Black as Painted.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 11.—Otis Ellis, who was arrested, charged with seducing or raping his three daughters, was tried at Ridgely and was acquitted, the evidence showing that his family had put up a conspiracy on him.

GAVE THEMSELVES AWAY.

The St. Louis Elopement Captured in Topeka, Kansas.

St. Louis, July 11.—Henry W. Moore and Mrs. John W. Norton, whose sensational elopement has been a great theme of gossip in newspaper and theatrical circles, have been caught. Moore sent a telegram to a reporter of the Post-Dispatch for a trunk containing clothes. The dispatch was dated at Topeka, Kan., and stated that the sender was stopping at the Copeland house under the name of W. H. Mason, of Philadelphia, and that he had his wife with him. The reporter took the telegram to the city officials. Papers were made out at once and a warrant was issued for Moore's arrest, charging him with grand larceny in taking $10,000 of money from Mrs. Norton's house.

Chief of Police Hnebler telegraphed the chief of police at Topeka to make the arrest, which was promptly done. Mrs. Norton was not arrested, but she created a great scene at the hotel. She broke down completely and refused to leave her guilty partner. Moore was not taken to jail. Judge Lawlin, attorney for the deserted husband, started for Topeka with Mrs. Caswell, a friend of the Nortons. The lady will do all she can to induce the erring wife to return.

Moore said he had not stolen any money, and was willing to go back to St. Louis and face the music. He said he made no attempt to hide, but registered under an assumed name to avoid trouble with the hotel.

Crop Report.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The department of agricultural crop report shows condition of winter wheat advanced from 73.3 to 75.6, and of spring wheat from 92.3 to 95.9; condition of cotton 86.7; area of corn reported has increased over 4 per cent.

Winter wheat has been harvested in the south, and yielded below expectations in the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama. It has improved slightly in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. A marked improvement is noted in Michigan. Reports from the Pacific coast are also more favorable. General condition has advanced from 73.3 to 75.6. Averages of principal states: New York, 80; Pennsylvania, 93; Ohio, 60; Michigan, 75; Indiana, 62; Illinois, 68; Missouri, 72; Kansas, 95; California, 83.

The stand of corn is now moderately good and the crop is growing finely. Condition by principal states: Ohio, 96; Indiana, 95; Illinois, 93; Iowa, 89; Missouri, 91; Kansas, 99; Nebraska, 91. A preliminary investigation of the area of manufacturing leaf tobacco makes an increase of 18 per cent. over the greatly reduced crop of last year.

Byrne and Walsh.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Frank Byrne, who figured in the libelous articles in the London Times, about which so much has been said recently, now lives on Dean street, beyond Vanderbilt avenue in Brooklyn. Though a trusted and tried assistant of Mr. Parnell and Isaac Butt, the father of Home Rule, and a man of talent, he has been unable to make a go since his coming here. He has done all sorts of things, but nothing successful for a long time. His most recent venture was as proprietor of a saloon. Things became so twisted that Byrne was glad to get out. His friend, John Walsh, is not much better off, but he has only himself to look after while Byrne has a wife and family.

The Rails Spread.

CAMERON, Mo., July 11.—By a spreading of rails on a fifty foot trestle ten miles west of here Monday evening, a Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific construction train, with seventeen men on board, was precipitated to the ground, a distance of thirty feet. Foreman Richard Jones was killed outright. Engineer Wilcox was scalded and died a few hours later. Brakeman Peter Cummings' feet were crushed, and he also received internal injuries from which he will die. All leave families living here.

An Old Western Unioner Dying.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 11.—Hiram Sibley, probably the best known resident of Rochester, suffered a stroke of apoplexy yesterday. He is eighty-one years old. Mr. Sibley was one of the leading movers in founding the Western Union Telegraph company.

The Weather.

It Saved my Child's Life.

"When my child was born, the doctor ordered one of the other Foods. She ate that until she nearly died. I had three doctors, who said the trouble was Indigestion, and ordered the food changed to Lactated Food. It saved my child's life, and I owe your Food for it. I regard your Food as invaluable, and superior to all other artificial food for babies."

"We are using in our nursery (containing forty infants) your Lactated Food, and find it far superior to all other food which has been used during the past ten years that I have been visiting physicians. The Sisters of Charity, who have charge of the institution, say it has no equal."
